Superintendent's Letter

Dear MJUSD community,

I am extremely proud of the hard work and dedication of our Visual and Performing Arts (VAPA) teachers in developing the MJUSD 2023-2028 TK-12 Strategic Arts Plan.

The importance of Arts in education is captured in the newly completed MJUSD Graduate Profile that identifies five competencies for student success in college, career, and life. These are: (1)college and career readiness, (2) engagement and leadership, (3) personal characteristics, (4) academic competence, and (5) cultural and global competence. The Strategic Arts Plan supports and aligns with all five competencies and provides five areas of focus to build a successful, districtwide arts program:

Equity and Access: Enhance all aspects of visual and performing arts at each school

Curriculum: Strengthen the overall cohesiveness of the VAPA departments to create and expand curriculum offerings

Systems of Support: Develop positive and dynamic relationships and collaboration with local and regional arts organizations

Professional Development: Increase access to arts-specific professional development

Facilities, Technology & Resources: Improve facilities and access to technology and equipment that support the efforts of each artistic medium

This three-year Plan outlines a roadmap to enhance and expand opportunities for arts education in our schools. Through the support of teachers, administrators, and community members, this plan captures the vision to develop talented students who imagine and envision a better future.

On behalf of the Board of Education, I thank our teachers for your leadership and expertise in helping us move forward with this vision.

Sincerely,

Fal Asrani, EdD Superintendent

THE ARTS AND MUSIC IN SCHOOLS (AMS) FUNDING GUARANTEE AND ACCOUNTABILITY ACT (PROPOSITION 28)

- Funding for Proposition 28 is calculated at the school site level and allocated to MJUSD.
- MJUSD is required to allocate funds to eligible school sites in the amounts calculated by the California Department of Education (CDE).
- "Arts education program" includes, but is not limited to, instruction and training, supplies, materials, and arts educational partnership programs for instruction in: dance, media arts, music, theatre, and visual arts including folk art, painting, sculpture, photography, craft arts, creative expression including graphic arts and design, computer coding, animation, music composition, ensembles, script writing, costume design, film, and video.
- All funds must be used to provide arts education programs. Since MJUSD serves more than 500 pupils, MJUSD must expend at least 80 percent of the funds to employ certificated or classified employees to provide arts education instruction and the remaining funds for training supplies, curriculum, professional learning, materials, and arts educational partnership programs.
- AMS funds for arts program instruction must be part of the regular school day and statute requires that students be under the immediate supervision and control of a certificated employee in order to generate attendance for apportionment and receive instructional time credit.
- Each school can determine which program or programs it will offer. School administrators in collaboration with teachers, families, and students—should together make the choice that best serves students in their local school community.
- Schools can share teachers and teacher aides as well as community arts partners, and school districts can help facilitate this sharing among schools.
- AMS funds are subject to an annual audit to include verification that LEAs expended funds in accordance with their certifications and the requirements in EC Section 8220 beginning with the 2023–24 annual audit.
- Each school is required to submit an annual board-approved report to be posted on the school district's and Department of Education's websites that details the type of arts education programs funded by the program; the number of full-time equivalent teachers, classified personnel, and teaching aides; the number of pupils served; and the number of school sites providing arts education programs with such funds.
- Education Code Chapter 5.1, Section 8820, subsection (g) subdivision (2), states that as a condition of receipt of funds pursuant to this chapter, an LEA shall annually: "Certify that such funds received will be used to supplement funding for arts education programs and that funds received in the prior fiscal year were, in fact, used to supplement arts education programs."

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Marysville Joint Unified School District is committed to offering and maintaining a full and highly functioning arts education program at every school site within the district. A highquality visual and performing arts education is essential for student well-being and success. The voters of California recognized the value and contribution of the various arts disciplines by passing Proposition 28 in 2022. The proposition changes the landscape for arts education by guaranteeing access through funding for arts education for all students in the TK-12th grade. This funding secures the arts as an essential part of every child's development and education. Substantial research (see Appendix A) supports the value of arts in school and its impacts on reading and math acquisition.

This plan provides a five-year, three-phase roadmap for schools in MJUSD to utilize Proposition 28 funding successfully. Developed by MJUSD visual and performing arts teachers, this plan will:

- Define the vision and mission for arts in our schools.
- Highlight the values of our community.
- Define the alignment with the Graduate Profile.
- Define the areas of focus.
- Develop goals for a three-phase implementation plan.
- Define the school site plans and spending process.
- Provide research supporting arts in the schools.
- Report on the needs assessment completed by the VAPA teachers.
- Define the professional organizations and professional development opportunities available to staff.
- Develop and implement opportunities for students to earn physical education credits for marching band and dance and thereby grow student involvement, retention, and growth.

The staff of MJUSD would like to thank the voters of California for showing their value in arts education. These resources and commitments of our communities will positively impact the lives of our students for years to come. One of the highlights of this work is an annual district-wide performance event in partnership with community arts foundations and the district leadership team. The district will also design opportunities for summer camps to extend learning opportunities for students within the district.

APPENDIX A: RESEARCH ON THE BENEFITS OF ARTS IN EDUCATION

- "A Columbia University study revealed that students in the arts are found to be more cooperative with teachers and peers, more self-confident and better able to express their ideas." (Burton, J., Horowitz, R., Abeles, H., Champions of Change, Arts Education Partnership, 1999)
- "Students indicate that arts participation motivates them to stay in school, and that the arts create a supportive environment that promotes constructive acceptance of criticism and one in which it is safe to take risks." (Barry, N., Taylor, K., and K. Walls, Critical Links: Learning in the arts and student academic and social development, AEP, 2002
- "The skills gained through sequential music instruction, including discipline and the ability to analyze, solve problems, communicate and work cooperatively, are vital for success in the 21st century workplace," (U.S. House of Representatives, Concurrent Resolution 355, March 6, 2006)
- According to Champions of Change: The Impact of the Arts on Learning (1999), a compilation of studies on the impact of arts on learning, students who participate in the arts outperform their peers on virtually every measure. Researchers found that "sustained learning" in music and theater correlates to greater success in math, reading, and students from lower socioeconomic backgrounds see the greatest benefits. In fact, "learning in and through the arts can help 'level the playing field' for youngsters from disadvantaged circumstances," the researchers contended.
- In their 2006 book Studio Thinking: The Real Benefits of Visual Arts Education authors Lois Hetland and Ellen Winner discuss why students involved in the arts do better in school and on their SATs than their peers. They find that students in art classes learn a remarkable array of mental habits not emphasized elsewhere in school. Skills include persistence, expression, making clear connections between schoolwork and the outside world, observing, envisioning, and innovating through explorations. Each of these skills has a high value as a learning tool, both in school and elsewhere in life.
- While more affluent students do better in school than children from lower income backgrounds, we are finding that musical training can alter the nervous system to create a better learner and help offset this academic gap. (Dr. Nina Kraus, director of Northwestern's Auditory Neuroscience Laboratory guoted in "Musical training can improve language and reading")
- Involvement in participatory arts programs has been shown to have a positive effect on mental health, physical health, and social functioning in older adults, regardless of their ability. The arts also contribute to communicating, building sense of identity, preserving or restoring social capital, and strengthening social networks in communities" ("Arts in Aging" report from the National Endowment for the Arts)
- "The arts are central to who we are as a people, and they are central to the success of our kids. This is not an afterthought. This is not something you do because it's nice to do. It is necessary for these young people to succeed that we promote the arts." - President Barack Obama
